PHILADELPHIA TEAM. Brooklyns Lore to the Washingtons by Single Run-Bostons Make the Cham-pions Fall Again-Pittsburgh Beats Louisville Cleveland and Chicago Win.

The tide has turned. The New Yorks have won their second game of the season. They showed that they could hit the ball yesterday in their game at Philadelphia, and though young Dobeny was batted rather freely, his companions, with their great stick work, helped him to defeat the Quakers. This victory comes at a time when it is most needed. The New York team will begin their first Western series to-morrow at Louisville, and having at hat crawled out of the rocky road which opened, it is hoped that they will take courage and begin an uphill fight that will repay the thousands of local enthusiasts for their loyalty. At Eastern Park the Washing ions won the rubber in their second series with the Brooklyns, but they only had one run to spare. The Baltimores were again defeated by the Bostons, who have tied the Philadelphias for second place. The Pittsburghs now have a pretty good lead, which they strengthened by thitewashing the Louisvilles and scoring fourteen runs themselves. Pitcher Young reswered his grip and was responsible for Cleve land's victory over Cincinnati, and Chicago, by terrific batting off Breitenstein, laid St. Louis low once more. The results: New York, 15; Philadelphia, 10.

Washington, 4; Brooklyn, 8. Boston, 10; Baltimors, 9. Cleveland, 2; Cincinnati, 1. Pittsburgh, 14; Louisville, 0. THE RECORD.

NEW YORK, 15; PHILADELPHIA, 10.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2 .- After five ineffectnal attempts the New York team won from the Philadelphias to-day in a loosely played game. The men played in a dead-alive sort of way, and there was no attempt at team work. The errors chronicled in the error column were not by any means all that were made, but the other misplays were of the kind that cannot be recorded. The big start obtained in the first inning led the 8,650 speciators to hope that the Philadelphias would pull out a victory, but all hope was st after the fifth inning, when a bad muff by Sullivan, two bases on balls, three singles, and a triple netted six runs and came within one of twing the score.

There were requests from all parts of the field to take Carsey out, but Capt. Nash heeded it not, and when the visitors were retired in the sixth for no runs the "fans" began to hope that Carsey had settled down. But the New York men sey had settled down. But the New York men fell upon him again in the seventh for three singles and a double, which, with a bateman lit, yielded four runs and placed the visitors in the lead. Then Taylor was sent in to pitch, but he failed to stem the tide of defeat. With one sut, Gleason hit to right field, and but for Hulen's interference it would have been an easy sut to Thompson. As it was, the ball fell safely, and when a moment later Stafford sent a grounder through Hulen, Thompson, and Sullivan, Gleason scored, and Stafford also counted on the next put out.

van, Gleason scored, and Stafford also counted on the next put out.

The New Yorks clinched the victory in the ninth inning, Van Haltren knocking the ball over the right field wall for a home run, with Fuller on the bases as a result of four bad balls. Haliman was hit by a pitched ball and dropped out in favor of Hulen after the fifth inning. Grady led the hitting with two doubles, a single, and a base on balls. The feature of the game was the timely batting of Harry Davis, six of New York's runs resulting from his efforts. Gleason also did good work with the stick, making five singles out of six times at bat. Stafford, Van Haltren, Deichanty, and Nash made pretty catches, while Gleason and Fuller covered the ground around second in style. The score: PHILADELPHIA

McAuley, who wasn't good enough for the New York Club, began the raily at Eastern Park yesterday which eventually won the game for the Washingtons. For five innings there was every indication that the Brooklyns would pull out a victory, but the ex-Providence catcher led the way for the other Washington players. When McAuley tood the plate in the sixth inning but four scattered hits had been made by the Senators, and, as the home team led by a score of 3 to 0, the 5,000 spectators couldn't help feeling contented. A long drive to the leftield ropes by McAuley, which netted the batter a home run and also sent Cartwright across the plate, disheartened the rooters. To cap the climax Kennedy made a wild pitch in the eighth inning, which allowed Cartwright to score the winning run. WASHINGTON, 4; BROOKLYN, 3.

the plate, dishearlened the rooters. To cap the climax Kennedy made a wild pitch in the eighth inning, which allowed Cartwright to score the winning run.

Foutz's men sized up Mercer in grand style in the second inning. Laclance opened with a hot liner over Cartwright's head, and Shindle dropped a fly in short left field. Corcoran sacrificed and the men moved up a base. Lachance came home on a balk and Shindle scored on Daly's single to left field. Burrill kept up the fun by hitting safely to right field, but Daly, who attempted to reach third on the hit, was nailed by Abbey, who got the ball to Rogers in double-quick time. Rogers then sent the ball to Cartwright, and Burrill was caught off the base. It was a grand piece of work, and the speciators couldn't help applead the visiting players. In the fifth inning the Brooklyns made their last run on Daly's double and kennedy's single, after two men had been retired. Mercer then settled down, and in the remaining four innings not a Brooklyn man reached first base. The score:

WILLIAMSTOWN, May 2.—Williams defeated Harvard on Weston Field this afternoon in a hard-fought game, in which Harvard was outplayed. The home team batted far better and ran bases superior to the wearers of the crimson. Capt. Lewis pitched magnificent ball for Williams, although suffering from a lame arm, and only three hits were made off him. Both sides made errors at critical moments, but Harvard's were more costly. SOME CURIOUS OLD RULES WHICH ARE STILL IN FORCE.

The Revenue of the City from the Markets and the Men Who Collect It-Advan-tages of Markets on the Water Front-Demand for an Eligible Market Up Town, The city of New York derives a revenue of $300,000 a year, or at the rate of about $1,000 s day, Sundays and holldays excepted, from its narkets. The money so derived is not applied to the reduction of taxation, but goes into the city's Sinking Fund for the ultimate redemption of the city's bonded debt. From the very earliest times the city of Nev York has had control of the market business and in the original charter of 1686 it was pro vided in the thirteenth section that the corporation should hold three market days in every week of the year, and three of the principal local officers of the town, as established by this charter, were the Town Clerk, the Retimes since the city has retained control of the market business, leasing out to private individuals the stands and prescribing rules for the government of the mar-Some of these rules, which are of very early origin, appear somewhat qualit to persons familiar with the city's enormous trade edibles; but they have the warrant of an tiquity to sustain them, and moreover the support of long usage. For instance, section 36 of the city ordinance relating to markets declares that every butcher "shall have his own scale beams and weights, which shall be suspended in some conspicuous place in front of or at the side of his stall," under penalty of $5 for every day's omission or neglect. But two butchers whose stalls adjoin each other can use one set of scales in common "provided they can be sus pended in a conspicuous place." The law regulating the transactions of marketmen declares that "in case of suspicion respect-ing the weight of any article sold or offered for sale, by measure, in any of the public markets, market places, or streets contiguous thereto, it shall be the duty of the market clerk to weigh and measure the same, and if any such article shall be found deficient in weight or measure, the marketman offending shall pay a fine of $10 Every cart or wagon in which articles are brought to the New York market is, by law, to removed therefrom at or before seven in the morning between May 1 and Oct 1. and before eight in the morning during other times of the year under penalty of $5. No person shall occupy any part of any public market, or the streets contiguous thereto, within the distance of 300 yards from any part of such market, for the purpose of selling any article whatsoever, without having first paid the rest or market fees, when demanded by the clerk of the said market, under the penalty of $25 for every such offence. No huckster shall sell, or expose for sale, in any of the public markets, or in any street within the city of New York, any provisions or articles of any kind excepting vegetables or fruit, without having received a permit for the sale of the same, under the penalty of $10.

The markets of New York are distinguished rather for their antiquity than their modern arrangements, though some efforts in this regard have recently been made, especially in the upper part of town. Fulton Market was built in 1821 on a site made available by an extensive fire in the vear preceding. Catherine Market was established in 1786, Essex Market in 1818, and Clinton Market, Franklin Market, are the officially designated markets, Union Market, and West Washington Market, are the officially designated markets of New York, control of which continues in the hands of the city authorities. The Market Burean is included in the Computroller's office. Its maintenance costs about $60,000 a year, of which $40,000 is appropriated to pay cartmen and sweepers required to keep the markets in good condition. There is a large force of such sweepers. The business of collecting the market revenues devolves on the official known in the Comptroller's office as the Superintendent of Markets. This place is now held by a brother of City Court Justice O'Brien. The salary is $4,000. The post of Clerk of Markets requires from the incumbent considerable labor, and some knowledge of the business of marketmen and the ordinances regulating them. The present Clerk of Markets is Alexander Meakim, the distance of 300 yards from any part of such market, for the purpose of selling any article

More Rumors About Ruste.

The despatch published yesterday from Muncie, Ind., to the effect that Pitcher Rusie left there on Friday for this city, was discredited by the officials of the New York Club. If Rusie left for this city he did not come all the way, for trains arriving here yesterday from the West were all watched, and there was no sign of the big pitcher.

Last night The Sun received word from St. Louis that Rusie had arrived there, and was consensing with Chris Yon der Ahe. If such turns out to be the case, it means one of two things. Either a deal is on for the exchange of Breitenstein for Rusie, or Amos has gone to Yon der Ahe for advice. If he is sensible he will heed the warning given by President Freedman, who in this instance is backed up by the National League. Freedman said yesterday:

"If Rusie has left for this city it is news to me. I have not wired him one word, have not asked him to come on here, and will not make a concession of any kind. He will play ball at my considerable labor, and some knowledge of the business of marketmen and the ordinances regulating them. in meat, is continued all day. The farmers seil vegetables and fruit chiefly—vegetables to a larger extent than fruit.

Serious efforts have been made of late to secure an eligible up-town market under the direction of the city, but little headway has been made in the matter, partly for the reason that inland markets, so called, do not pay. The larger markets of the city, such as Washington, Fulton, and West Washington, are convenient to the ferries and also to the wharves to which are brought the chormous supplies of sish and other articles. This is especially the case with Fulton Market. West Washington Market is in close proximity to the oyster fleet headquarters, and mas the additional advantage of being between the two ferries, the Christopher street and the Fourteenth street. The old Washington Market is in the immediate neighborheod of the landing place of the coastwise steamers bringing fruit and vegetables to the New York market. But if the old markets on or near the river front enjoy the largest share of business, the markets in the central part of town have better buildings, and can be utilized in other ways in the city's interest. Thus a portion of Essex Market and a portion of Tompkins Market have been used for armory purposes. In Jefferson Market, a comparatively new building, there are two court rooms, one a Police Magistrate's and the other a Civil District Court. In the building of Union Market there is a police station.

Some years ago there was an appressal of city property, and in the list of New York's available assets the markets were included at a valuation of $5,000,000. This computation was made at a time when real estate values had not attained their present standard and the present estimate of the value of New York's market property apart, of course, from the rights of which the city maintains a monopoly, is $15,000,000. Fulton Market proper, of the probable selling value, When the cost of repairs and Improvements is added to the present standard on the right of the probable selling v

ALBANY, May 1.-When the legislative session of 1896 closed yesterday but one amendment to the Game law for the protection of deer had been added to the though a number of fish and game bills had been introduced, and were scattered along at all stages of legislative procedure. It amends and changes section 170 of the Game law as revised and codified by chapters 305 and 374 of the Laws of 1895. As the old law stood lowed but seven days of deer hunting, from Nov. 10 to Nov. 16, in Kings, Queens, and Suffolk counties. This section, which was in Article VII., applying only to Long Island counties, said:

Sec. 170. Deer-Shooting at, bunting with dogs of Nec. 170. Deer-Shooting at, builting with dogs or otherwise, or killing deer is problemed for the period of two years from the passage of this act, and during a like period of every alternate two years thereafter. During the open a maons or intermediate periods of two years, deer shall not be shot at, bunted with dogs or otherwise, or killed, except from the 10th to the 10th day of November, both inclusive. Whosever shall violate or attempt to violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty or misdemeanor, and in addition therete shall be itable to a penalty of $100 for each violation thereof. $100 for each violation thereof. Even these conditions allowed too much de struction of the scant supply of deer on Long Island, and the Legislature limited the season to the Wednesdays in November of each year by the act which provides as rollows:

Section 1. Section one hundred and seventy of the SECTION I. Section one hundred and seventy of the Fisheries, Game and Forest law, as constituted by chap-ters three hundred and nicety five and nine hundred and seventy four of the Laws of eighteen hundred and ninets five, is birrely amended to read as follows: Sec. 170. Deer.—Sheating at, hunting with dogs or otherwise, or killing deer is prohibited, except during each Wetnesday in the month of November in each year. Whover shall violate or attempt to violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and in addition thereto shall be flable. to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each violati thereof.
Sec. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

While the law for the protection of deer had not been changed up to April 30, the two bills introduced by Col, William Cary Sanger in the Assembly had been passed by the Legislature Assembly had been passed by the Legislature and were in Gov. Morton's hands. They undoubtedly will become laws, and will materially restrict the hunting of deer with hounds or a "jacklight." The first of these bills amends section 43 of the tame law so as to allow the use of a jacklight for only fifteen days in September. It reads thus:

Section 1. Section 43 of chapter 488 of the Laws of 1895, is hereby amended by chapter 6.4 of the Laws of 1895, is hereby amended so as to regal as follows:

Sec. 44. Traps and artificial lights.—Traps or any device whatsoever, to trap and entire deer, including saif licks, shall not be made, set, or used, and deer shall not be caught, hunted, or killed by ald or use thereof. No larkinght or any other artificial light shall be used in hunting or killing or attempting to kill any deer, accept from Sept. 140 Sept. 15, both inclusive. Whoever-hall thoust or attempt to violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and in addition therete shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each violation thereof.

Sec. 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are bereby repeated.

Section 43, prior to this, placed no restriction on the use of the jacklight by the aid of which so many of the Adirondack deer are slaughtered at night during the open season.

The second—lill amends section 44, regarding the use of dogs, and greatly alters it. By the old law hounding was permitted from Sept. 10 to Oct. 10, inclusive, and all hounding at any time in the counties of St. Lawrence, Greene, Delaware, and Ulster was prohibited. The Sanger bill makes the hounding season both shorter and later, as the following shows:

Sec. 1. Section 44 of Chapter 488 of the laws of 1892, as amended by chapter 174 of the Laws of 1895.

Sanger bill makes the hounding season both shorter and later, as the following shows:

Sec. 1. Section 44 of Chapter 488 of the laws of 1832, as amended by chapter 171 of the Laws of 1832, of sald act, is hereby amended season read as follows:

Sec. 44. Houndings, beer shall not to hunted, puriously the complex of the laws of 1832, as mended by the first to the fifteenth day of October, both inclusive. Poss of the breed community used for hunting deer shall not be permitted by the owner or person harboring the same to run at large except between such dates in the forest where deer inhabit. Deer shall not be hunted with dozs in the countries of St. Lawrence, belaware, treene, Ulster, or Sallivan except in the towns of Highland, Cunner, land, Tusten, 'or excton and Betted, in the country of builtvan, deer may be hunted, pursued or killed with dogs, from the first to the fitteenin day of october, both inclusive fits previsions of this section as to fine close except in the towns of this section as to fine close except include the breed used for hunting deer or all the first hand in the continuous larger for the first and fitteening day of october, both inclusive it shall be deemed prima facie existence of the violation of the foregoing section by the person or persons owning, taking, having or harbering such dog or block. Whoever shall violate or attempt to violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of misdemeaner, and, in addition thereto, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each violation thereof.

Sec. 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

Senator Malby and Assemblyman Sanger made a stout fight for the total prohibition of See 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

Senator Malby and Assemblyman Sanger mate a stout fight for the total prohibition of all jacklight and dog hunting of deer, and Senator Malby succeeded in passing his two bills to this end through the Senate. Coi. Sanger supported the effort, even to the repudiation of his own bills, which only restrict such practices. All proved unavailing, however, as the Adirondack hotel keepers were too strong. The Malby bills were defeated in the Assembly, and Coi. Sanger was forced to take up his rejected bills as the only possible compromise and pass them. The Senate also passed them, and it is expected confidently they will soon be a part of the Game law.

THE SO-DAY BILLS. Nearly 200 Bills Still in the Hands of Mayors 500 for the Governor, ALBANY, May 2. The list of thirty-day bills in the Governor's hands will be printed by next are in the hands of Mayors this year than last. At the close of last session the number did not exceed 100. They number close upon 200 this year, and when these are returned to the Governor the number in his hands will exceed 500.

Free Libraries Increasing.

ALBANY, May 2.- Reports to the Regents for 1895 from the libraries show that there are in the State 181 free circulating libraries of 1,000 volumes or more, a gain of twenty-five over the preceding year. Eighty-three thousand two preceding year. Fighty-three thousand two hundred and seventy-eight books were added to these libraries during the year, and their circu-lation increased from 2,005,000 to 3,012,000 volumes. The gain in circulation for libraries of this class was 147,425 in one year, and 708,-122 in two years. The average circulation was 231 for each 100 volumes in 1894, and 287 for each 100 volumes in 1895.

Arrest of a Bowery Auctionser. John Nicholson, 49 years old, a Bowery auc tioneer, was arrested yesterday by Detective Cuff of the District Attorney's office, under an indictment charging him with grand larceny in the second degree. Samuel Greenbaum is the complainant, and he alleges that he bought $300 worth of goods from Nicholson which he paid for and never received. Nicholson says Greenbaum owed him the money on an old account. Nicholson furnished $1,000 bail in the General Sessions.

The Weather,

The low pressure area which has been drifting slowly eastward for the past three days, was cen-tral yesterday over the lake regions. Cloudy, showry conditions prevaticd nearly everywhere cast of he Mississippi Siver.

There was an area of high pressure passing of the coast, throwing off easterly winds, which in-creased the humidity. There was a se one disturbance coming down over Montana, creating cloudy and showery weather in that neighborhood.

It begins to look as if we were to get most of our

April showers in May. In this city yesterday it was cloudy and threaten-ing; average humidity 81 per cent.; wind southcast, average velocity 10 miles an hour, highest of-ficial temperature 52', lowest 45'; barometer, cor rected to read to sea level, at S A. M. 30.20, S P. M.

The thermometer at Hudnut's recorded the temperature yesterday as follows:

WARRISOTON POSICIANT FOR AUXDAY.

For New England, fair, south to west winds, and warmer in northerh and central portions. for eastern Kest York, twie in the interior and cloudy the coast, with possibly light showers in the morning gouth minds.
For entire, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware, county and threatening possibly fight showers in the morning followed by fair weather, warmer, QUEENS UD. JOUKEY CLUB, MONDAY, MAY 4, 2:30 P. M. THE BEST AMERICAN GOLFER.

He Is a Negro Caddy at the Shianecock Golf (lub - John Shippen, Jr., the Leading Native at the Royal Came. Since the introduction of the game of golf in the United States the impatience to see the great American golfer has become almost as strong as that awaiting the great American novelist. Considering the experience of our players, the result has been creditable unfountfelly; but championship form is scarcely bromised in any instance among the amateurs Leeds's victory at Lakewood showed, perhaps, the best play here we have seen; but it must be repeated before it can be accepted as Mr Leeds's true standard.

There is, however, an American golfer either in the first class or certain to be in it before very long. He is a young negro boy named John Shippen, 16 years old, a caddy at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club at Southampton, L. I. If he sticks to golf he 's destined to make a pretty broad mark on the American record. John Shippen, whose portrait is given here, is the son of John Shippen, the Episcopalian clergyman on the Shinnecock reservation.

latter has been the spiritual guide of this tribe of Long Island Indians for about eight years. He was born a slave, the property of a Mr. Smith of Virginia, and when liberated after the war went to Washington, where his family were born. The liev. Mr. Shippen was educated at Howard University. He has one son now studying at Oberlin College, and it has been a question with young John whether to follow in his brother's footstens or to become a professional of the links, the inclination being strongly in the latter direction.

Young John is a pleasant-faced boy, about 5 feet 7, square-shouldered, and weighing between 140 and 150 pounds. In common with the little Shinnecocks, who constitute the bulk of the caddless serving the Shinnecock Hills players, John has for the past two years tramped the few miles between his own house and the club house almost every day during the season, excepting Sundays, when, out of respect to the local habits, no caddles are permitted at the club house. If, when going round the links, he had had clubs carried for him instead of his carrying for somebody else, there is no telling how good his play would be now. As a caddy his chance to play is comparatively limited, but John can to-day beat any amateur in the country, and very probably some of the lesser professionals. His record on the Southampton links is seventy-twelly for six strokes behind Willie Dunn, whose best performance there is seventy-two. John's form is not perfect, but it is extremely sound and devoid of eccentricity, and he is good at every point. He is a strong and sure driver, very clever in approach, and careful and skilful in putting. His game is good from first to last. It would not be at all surprising if before long John Shippen, the negro boy, appeared in the open championsnip as one of the most threatening candidates for honors.
